

Nothing but pure fresh air

The HARO FreshAir WC Seat with smell filter

Modern bathrooms and toilets not only provide the user with pure functionality, they also increasingly reflect efforts to ensure the user's well-being. And the atmosphere in the respective room just has to be right for wellness at home. Bad smells are unpleasant and annoying.

The HARO FreshAir WC Seat from Hamberger Sanitary in cooperation with Aspidor combats these and conjures up the freshest air possible in the bathroom and toilet.

An ingenious system (Aspidor patent) allows unpleasant smells to be reliably filtered out of the air right there where they start. What's left? An indoor climate of well-being, as if freshly aired! And all this as quiet as a whisper and practically maintenance-free. A power supply beside the toilet is not required with the HARO model either, as it is with some other models. The built-in batteries last for 3 to 4 months and can be simply recharged overnight with the charger included with delivery. In addition to the smell filter, needless to say the FreshAir also features 100% HARO quality: appealing design, ergonomic sitting comfort, high-grade, long-life materials and perfected, dirt trap-free production.

Hamberger Sanitary GmbH based in Rosenheim near Munich is now the largest manufacturer of WC seats in Europe and operates production sites in Germany and Bulgaria. Hamberger has been manufacturing WC seats since 1912. The fact that the company develops its own designs, uses its own established hinge technology and operates a global logistics network forms the basis for its success. The company was established back in 1866 and is now managed in the fourth and fifth generation by Peter Hamberger and his son Dr Peter Hamberger. The company has constantly acquired new shares of the market and is now the largest manufacturer of thermoset WC seats anywhere in the world. Around 50% of its products are exported to more than 50 different countries throughout the world. Further information is available at www.haro-sanitary.com
