HARO WC seats with SoftClose mechanism

Hamberger Sanitary GmbH (HARO) is the largest manufacturer of WC seats in Germany and a pioneer when it comes to producing futuristic designs of the very highest quality. With a range of products which includes design oriented, perfectly hygienic or particularly robust models, HARO WC seats offer the right solution to meet all requirements.

With the development of the SoftClose automatic lowering mechanism, HARO has set yet another milestone for greater WC comfort.

The SoftClose cushioning units which are completely integrated into the seat allow the lid to close gently and silently when it is tapped lightly. Thanks to a wide variety of hinge solutions, they are just as easy to install and fit just as well as all other HARO WC seats - something which will appeal not only to the end customers who use them but also to the workmen who install them. Although this function is already available from a number of different manufacturers, not all of the systems result in satisfied end consumers. However, at HARO, quality is the number-one priority.

Its SoftClose seats have proven their quality and longevity during numerous endurance tests. In view of this fact, HARO provides an extra 10-year warranty which covers the automatic lowering mechanism on its SoftClose WC seats in addition to the statutory warranty already provided. Proof indeed that the quality of its WC seats is beyond doubt.

Hamberger Sanitary GmbH based in Rohrdorf near Rosenheim is now the largest manufacturer of WC seats in Germany and operates production sites in Germany and Bulgaria. Hamberger has been manufacturing WC seats since 1912. The fact that the company develops its own designs, uses its own established hinge technology and operates a global logistics network forms the basis for its success. The company was established back in 1866 and is now managed in the fourth and fifth generation by Peter Hamberger and his son Dr Peter Hamberger. The company has constantly acquired new shares of the market and is now the largest manufacturer of thermoset WC seats anywhere in the world. Around 50% of its products are exported to more than 50 different countries throughout the world. Further information is available at www.haro-sanitary.de
