

Perfectly designed functionality

Ingenious WC Seat with added value

People that need that little bit of help in their daily life will no longer have to do without stylish designs. Practical, harmonious and charming – the new “Haromed” WC Seat from Hamberger Sanitary is presented in all of its perfectly designed functionality. With a 5 cm higher sitting position, it makes sitting down and standing up significantly easier, and the optionally available SoftClose® automatic closing system closes the WC Seat all on its own with just a simple soft tip. The well-dimensioned harmonious strap handle integrated into the WC Seat for opening the lid and a stability handle between the hinges not only make use especially comfortable and safe, they also provide optical highlights in jazzy colours on request. Mundane sanitary area designs were yesterday – the “Haromed” provides stylishly presented functional details.

Hamberger Sanitary GmbH based in Rosenheim near Munich is now the largest manufacturer of WC seats in Europe and operates production sites in Germany and Bulgaria. Hamberger has been manufacturing WC seats since 1912. The fact that the company develops its own designs, uses its own established hinge technology and operates a global logistics network forms the basis for its success. The company was established back in 1866 and is now managed in the fourth and fifth generation by Peter Hamberger and his son Dr Peter Hamberger. The company has constantly acquired new shares of the market and is now the largest manufacturer of thermoset WC seats anywhere in the world. Around 50% of its products are exported to more than 50 different countries throughout the world. Further information is available at www.haro-sanitary.com
